DURANT TAKES MEET

Southeastern Makes High
Point Record in First
Quadrangular.

By winning nearly as many points as her three opponents, Southeastern Teachers College of Durant Thursday afternoon topped first honors in the quadrangular track and field meet held on the East Central field. Ada came second, nosing out Shawnee Baptist University by one-half of one point. Oklahoma City college was fourth with two points less than Ada college.

This was the first annual quadrangular meet between these schools. The next meet will be held at Shawnee, according to an agreement at a meeting of Coaching Soutar of O. C. C., Bell of Durant, Grove of Shawnee and Thompson of Ada. No prizes were awarded, as the state conference rules forbid this at any except the regular state collegiate meet.

Ada college, as well as Shawnee and Oklahoma City colleges, was participating in her first track meet. Durant Teachers won third in the state meet last year and had an advantage over the other colleges. Neely of Ada was sick after winning the half mile and did not take part in hurdles and dashes, which greatly crippled the local squad. Oklahoma City College had only six men. Durant Teachers were here with the largest team.

Most of the events were below the records of the high school meet held here annually. Weather for the meet was ideal. Cobb of Durant, by participating in the relay race, nosed out Boyet of the same school one-fourth point for all-round honors. No man on the Ada team made more than five points. First honors went to Cobb who had a total of 15 1-4 points. The relay was the only event in which Oklahoma Baptists won first.

10 FATALITIES IN STORM AT AUSTIN

Tornado Leaves Damage of $400,000 In Its Wake
Late Yesterday.

(By the Associated Press)

AUSTIN, May 5.—The death toll for yesterday's storm was increased to 12 shortly before noon with the finding of two more bodies, that of Andrew McGroarty, of Port Arthur, a student in Steward college, which was found west of the campus, and that of an eight year old girl, found four miles south of Austin.

AUSTIN, Tex., May 5.—The death here early today of Ben Roberts, negro, brought to ten the list of fatalities in the tornado which late yesterday struck the west side of Austin and swept down to Oak Hill, eight miles southwest, causing property damage estimated at $400,000. Roberts was a resident of Telford, just south of Austin.

With the exception of Roberts and an infant all the deaths occurred at Oakhill, and Hanchaca, eight miles south. At the former place the Bergey home was the hardest hit, six persons there meeting death when the tornado struck. Two negroes were killed at Manchaca. The Padgett's lived on Post road, south of Austin.

About 40 persons were known to have been injured in various localities hit by the tornado, but in most cases, the injured are of more or less minor character and most of the injured are being cared for in hospitals, and homes here.

The chief property damage was done to the plants of the Woodward Manufacturing company, another company at Telford and St. Edwards College, the negro deaf, dumb and blind institution, and residences and buildings in south and southwestern parts of the city. The central portion of Austin was unharmed.

Flappers Turning to Outing Sports to Get Diversion

The flapper has taken to fishing.

With bobbed hair flowing in the wind like flowing robes of dancers, with their eyes bright, their lips bright, their cheeks bright, the flappers are marching to the lakes and rivers with fish poles over their shoulders and outing magazines and candy boxes under their arms.

Investigation in fishing stores yesterday showed that women were buying more fishing tackle than men and that most of the purchasers were flappers. But more! The magazine shops said that young women were enthusiastically buying outing magazines.

One clerk told of a young woman who bought all of the pretty tackle that she could get into a tackle box. She liked the red flies and the shiny spoon hooks. She was sure that fish would like them, too.

Men are not buying as much tackle as formerly, but they all seem to have the fever.

Good-bye to the moon light canoe ride. You cannot cast from a canoe. This will be sad news to the swains. If the flappers should happen to make a fad of fishing a general reorganization will be necessary. The dance pavilions on the shores of the lakes will not be necessary, but several men yesterday put forth the opinion that the flappers couldn't do without jazz music.

STATE'S HISTORY REVIEWED TODAY

Scouts Stage "Oklahoma in The Making" Before
Immense Crowd.

"Oklahoma in the Making," the first boy scout pageant ever staged here, was opened this afternoon, before a large crowd, on the college field, when boy scouts from Ada and other troops of the county reproduced every instance in Oklahoma history of importance.

The affair started at 2:30 and the closing event was expected to come late in the day.

Events of the pageant included the race for land at the opening of Oklahoma, migration of Indians to their new homes, coming of the French traders, Spanish citizens and cowboys, erection of a log cabin, radio station, building of cities, and other events of interest.

The high school band furnished music. Many visiting scouts rode horses, while local scouts used horses belonging to Battery F. John Beard, W. H. Ebey and Robert Blanks, three oldest citizens of Ada, in point of residence, marched in the parade.

After more than two hours of preparation the Boy Scout pageant, given by boy scouts and wolf-cubs of this county, was gotten under way this morning with the parade, which came west down Main street turning in the main business section and returning on the same street east to the college, where the pageant was being held this afternoon.

Boy scouts from Roff, Fitzhugh, Stonewall, Francis, Latta, Vanoss and other points of the county were here to participate in the event. Twenty-two events were scheduled to take place in the meet. Proceeds of the pageant will be used to buy a wireless telephone station for scouts of the county. It will be located at Ada and all scouts interested in this kind of work will be taught finer points in wireless.

Harry W. Miller, scout executive was being assisted by scout masters of various troops of the city and county. Due to the mammoth size of the affair, much confusion and minor troubles had to be smoothed out before the affair got under way. The pageant did not start until 2:30 this afternoon.

The commission would consist of ten members representing miners and the public and government agencies directly concerned, including the geological survey, and the bureau of mines and mining. Reports to congress with recommendations would be regulated within two years.

Chairman Nolan announced that efforts would be made to get the bill before the house as soon as possible, with the hope of its passage prior to the summer adjournment.

THREE ARE SLAIN TWO NEAR DEATH IN GUN BATTLES

Bandits Attempt To Free
Oklahoma Slim, Member of Their Gang.

POLICE PURSUE THEM

Motorcycle Officer Tied To Tree But Others Take
Up the Chase.

(By the Associated Press)

CANTON, Ohio, May 5.—Three men were dead and two bandits were dying early today as a result of a gun battle in a wooded area south of here late yesterday between armed posses and four gunmen following the kidnapping of a motorcycle policeman, who had arrested the men for speeding.

The gunmen, police say, had come here in an automobile to assist in the release of "Oklahoma Slim" John Stephens, a member of their gang, who is in the local workhouse and who is said to be wanted in a number of middlewestern cities on charges of bank robbery.

When the gunmen were arrested by Motorcycle Policeman John Wise, they forced him to enter their automobile and drove to the woods, where they bound, gagged and tied the officer to a tree.

Lineman Wires Police.

J. C. Campbell, a telephone lineman, who witnessed the kidnapping, notified the police, then jumped into his automobile and followed the bandits. Several times he stopped, climbed a telephone pole, cut in on the wire with his test apparatus and notified the police of the course of the gunmen.

As the officers neared the bandits, they all opened fire and fled to the woods, where they were surrounded by police and citizens. The battle ensued.

When the fire of the former gangsters stopped, the posse found all four sprawled on the ground, an unidentified man dead. Another died a few minutes later and two others are now dying.

ROBBER KILLED 2 PALS ESCAPE IN O. C. BATTLE

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 5.—One of three men who early today attempted to burglarize a store at Choctaw 14 miles east of here, was shot and killed by deputy sheriffs who had been tipped off about the proposed robbery and were lying in wait for the intruders. The dead man has been identified by local authorities as Frank Smith, alias Frank Jones. His two companions escaped. Four youths who were found in a motor truck near the scene of the attempted robbery are being detained for investigation.

May Be Deserter.

The name of "J. Deery" sewed on the inside of the khaki shirt worn by the dead man, lead authorities to believe, according to Ben Dancy, that he was a deserter from the army post at Ft. Sill. Marks on his arm showed he was a drug user, the sheriff said.

Search is being pushed for the two men who accompanied the dead man to the store. The automobile in which they escaped was fired upon by deputies and citizens of Choctaw, who later expressed the belief that one of the fugitives was wounded.

"Woman of South" Is Subject of Memorial Address Here Sunday

"The Woman of the South," will be the subject of an address to be delivered at the Methodist church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock by Ed Hill, prominent attorney of McAlester, the occasion being an observance of Memorial day by the local camp of U. C. V.

Confederate veterans will meet Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at the City Hall, Capt. A. M. Crow, camp commander, announced this morning and march in a body to the church where seats will be reserved.

Members of the American Legion and veterans of the Spanish-American war are invited to meet with the Confederates and sit with them in the reserved section, Capt. Crow said.

Senator Hill is a southerner, his family having lived on the course of Sherman's "march to the sea." He is a brother of Sherwood Hill of this city.

When Queen Victoria ascended the throne not more than 40 per cent of the people of Great Britain could write their names.

Mme. Mimi Constantineau, Boston prima donna, has just returned to Boston after a futile attempt to marry Lewis K. Marr, assistant superintendent of the Pennsylvania railroad. She is now suing him for $150,000, alleging that she lived with him as his wife for ten years and that he now refuses to marry her.

WU'S FORCES HOLD CHINESE CAPITAL

Chang's Army Retreats In
Disorder As Conquerer
Comes Into Peking.

(By the Associated Press)

PEKING, May 5.—General Wu Pei-fu was in control of Peking at noon today, and General Chang Tsao Lin, whose forces were routed in a fierce battle outside the capital, was fleeing to Mukden. Chang's army is retreating in disorder towards Tientsin.

Observers here believe Chang's sudden collapse has ended hostilities.

With 50,000 troops, General Wu Pei-fu entirely surrounded General Chang's forces outside Peking yesterday, and after 15 hours of relentless cannonading, machine gun fire and infantry charges routed his opponent, making himself master of the situation around the Chinese capital.

Last night Wu's forces camped unmolested outside the city gates, while Chang's soldiers were scattered, having retreated with the main body down the railroad towards Tientsin, or gathered in disorganized mobs over the hills.

The beaten army left behind artillery, munitions, horses and loaded camels, and its wounded and dead. The total casualties in the day's fighting was believed to have been between 5,000 and 7,000.

WATKINS MAKES LENGTHY SPEECH BEFORE HE DIES

Condemned Man Thanks
His Jailers for Kindness
But Scores Judge.

'CAN'T HARM MY SOUL'

Confessed Murderer Laid
To Rest in McAlester
Prison Cemetery.

(By the Associated Press)

McALESTER, May 5.—The body of Samuel Watkins, confessed slayer of Mrs. Carrie Jones, at Caney, who was put to death in the electric chair at 12:14 this morning, will be buried in the prison cemetery, according to prison officials.

Watkins is one of the few prisoners who have been executed at the prison who did not get burial outside the prison yards. His wife convinced him that if his body was returned to Caney it might be disinterred and burned.

"They can kill my body and they may burn it, but they cannot kill my soul," Watkins told her. He agreed, however, that it would be best to be buried at the prison.

Watkins went to his death gamely. He stood before the grating of the witness chamber and made one of the longest addresses ever made here by a condemned man. He thanked the prison officers for their kindness, said that he was dying without hatred in his heart, but that he wished "that old judge at Atoka would get right with God."

Watkins confessed twice during Thursday but made no reference to the crime when he stood in the death chamber.

Calmly seated on the bunk in his cell in death row at the state penitentiary, Sam Watkins, confessed slayer of Mrs. Carrie Jones of Caney, spent most of the speeding minutes munching at a banana often exclaiming between bites: "I am innocent and happy and ready to go."

"I am going to meet my mother, little brother and baby sister in heaven tonight," Watkins told occasional visitors at the prison yesterday. Watkins when accused with the crime before a judge of the district court confessed, waived jury trial and asked for 75 days in which to make his peace with God.

"Hot dog I hope so," Watkins said Thursday when informed that his wife might visit him. The idea of the visit came as the result of an exclamation that "my nose itches," and a reply by a guard.

Watkins' wife visited him Monday. She left at once supposedly for Oklahoma City to ask for a reprieve for him or a commutation of sentence. At 3:00 o'clock yesterday afternoon prison officials had no information with regard to the plans of the woman.

Wednesday his head and leg were shaved in readiness for the execution. He has been given every comfort that can be given a man under the circumstances and when asked if he had been well taken care of, he said: "They have all been good to me."

Has No Children.

Watkins is 38 years old according to his own statement, and has a wife but no children. He has been married 14 years. He has a father living in Arkansas but does not know whether the old gentleman is living or not. He has a brother, a sister and two half-brothers living. He is small of stature and had not changed to any marked degree since his coming to the prison.

By the request of Watkins, Charles J. D. Rogers, of the penitentiary, wrote to attorneys in Oklahoma City asking them to investigate the records at the capital to see if there was any chance of a reprieve or another trial. Investigations show that Watkins had entered a plea of guilty and had stated in open court that he did not desire a counsel or a trial by jury. He asked for 75 days to make his peace with God and wind up his business affairs. Evidence of four or five witnesses was taken in the case and Watkins was given the death sentence on February 13.

Mob Hunted Him.

A mob of over two hundred men swooped down on the jail at Atoka on the night of February 11 for the purpose of lynching Watkins but the county officers, scenting trouble, had spirited him away and kept him in concealment until the time of his trial. He was given a secret trial where he was given the death penalty for his crime. Watkins is alleged to have confessed to the crime at his trial.

He told prison officials, when he was first brought to the penitentiary that he would not confess to them but would make his confession to God, who would forgive him.

Since he was brought to the death cell, two days ago, Watkins has told his guard that if "I had had

JUROR IN SMALL HEARING TALKED DEFENSE AVERS

(By the Associated Press)
WAUKKEGAN, Ill., May 5.—Two jurors for the trial of Governor Len Small, one of them already selected and sworn in, the other tentatively accepted by both sides, were pre-emptorily challenged and removed today following the challenge by the defense of the one of them that had been charged with discussing the case in the jury room. The state challenged the other when he was temporarily selected by the defense to represent the first man.

WAUKKEGAN, Ill., May 6.—Two affidavits charging that Charles Melville, an interurban motorman of Highland Park, who has been sworn as a juror for Governor Len Small's trial, has discussed the case in the jury room, were filed today before Judge Claire C. Edwards by the governor's attorneys. They were accompanied by a motion to re-open the panel allowing the sworn in persons to be challenged pre-emptorily.

The affidavits charged Melville, in presence of the other jurors, referred to Grant Park, a village in Kankakee county, as the "place where governor put the money in the fictitious bank."

C. Fred Mortimer, state's attorney of Sangamon county, opposed the defense motion.
After hearing statements Judge Edwards told C. C. LaForgee, chief of counsel for the governor, that he did not care for removal of Melville. The judge also gave the state two challenges as compensation. The state now has five pre-emptories left and the defense only four.

OIL NEWS

Subject to getting a few additional acres, a new location has been made in section 28-5-5, northeast of the discovery well in the Bebee territory. Ardmore parties are interested in the new well. Drilling is expected to begin not later than June 1.

This territory is generally looked upon as being likely. It will help determine the extent of the Bebee sand as well as the depth and producing ability.

Increased Interest Generally.
Oil scouts dropping into the city from time to time report that interest in Seminole and Pontotoc county fields is increasing. The prices on the acreage around Okemah and Weleetka have gone so high that many are leaving there and coming south. Several blocks of acreage are being assembled now, and wells ought to start down during the early summer at the latest.

Two Killed in Gun Battle At Bristow Road House Friday

Church Call Sounded For Legion Buddies By Officers of Post

Church call for more than 200 Legion "buddies" of Ada was literally sounded this morning in mail notices sent out individually to members of Norman Howard post, by officers of the post.
"SAY BUDDY: Next Sunday, May 7, is 'Mother's Day.' Let's all go to church—a little thing in fact but big in significance. THE AMERICAN LEGION." This was the message the cards bore.

Former service men are expected to swell the attendance at practically every church of the city Sunday morning, post officials said. Mother's Day is being observed in Ada this year on May 7 instead of May 14, because graduation exercises for the high school and college will be held on the latter date.

FLOODS CAUSE MILLION DOLLAR LOSS TO COTTON

BATON ROUGE, La., May 5.—Destruction of 200,000 acres of growing cotton valued at over a million dollars has been caused by flood waters from Concordia and other parishes, it was estimated today by Harry M. Wilson, state commissioner of agriculture. Farmers in the district will have to put in a new crop this year, he said, because the waters will recede too late for planting another cotton crop.

BOTH PARTIES OBJECT TO PICKING GOLDSTEIN

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Both democrats and republican leaders declared today that opposition was increasing to senate confirmation of Nat Goldstein, nominated for collector of internal revenue at St. Louis. The nomination was discussed briefly today and it was said that a committee would delay action indefinitely because of demand of members for complete information regarding the acceptance by Goldstein of $3,500 from former Governor Lowden while a candidate for delegate to the 1920 republican national convention.

No Disappointments

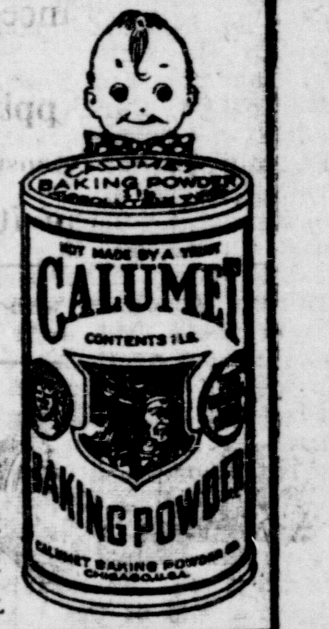

Millions of housewives use Calumet Baking Powder because of its dependability—because when they place their baking in the oven, they know it will "turn out" all right. They are confident of results because they know that no matter what they bake—pies, cakes, biscuits, muffins—the results will be the same—light, perfectly raised, wholesome foods.

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

never disappoints. Don't prepare bakings with expensive ingredients and then have them spoiled because of an inferior leavener.

Have the same assurance that the majority of other housewives have.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 ounces. Some baking powders come in 12 ounce instead of 16 ounce cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

The World Is Working for You

THE manufacturer who makes your shoes is working for you. So is the store that sells you shoes, your grocer, your clothier and every concern or person who makes or sells anything you buy.

Often these people have messages for you. They want to tell you about new goods, new styles, new prices or other new things they think you should know about.

They can't speak to you personally because they have so many customers to serve. So they put their messages in the newspaper in the form of advertisements.

It is to your interest to read the advertisements. They are published for your benefit. They keep you informed as to what these folks are doing for you. They help you buy the right goods at the right time and to make the most of your money.

Moreover, you'll find that business concerns that tell you frankly what they are doing are the most dependable. Stores that advertise are progressive stores that have something real to say to you. Manufacturers who advertise their products have confidence in them, because it does not pay to advertise anything that is not good.

Reading advertisements is both interesting and profitable

GERARDS AND U. S. COUNTESS SAIL

James W. Gerard, Countess Anton Sigra and Mrs. Gerard, photographed just before sailing.

James W. Gerard, former ambassador to Germany and whose book, "My Four Years in Germany," caused such a furor, has sailed for Europe with Mrs. Gerard. Countess Anton Sigra accompanied them. The countess was Miss Harriet Daly, daughter of Marcus Daly, theatrical magnate. Her husband, an Austrian count, is facing action by the Budapest court for his part in the ill-fated attempt to restore the late Emperor Carl to the Austrian throne.

NEWS NOTES FROM MOVIELAND

Shirley Mason sends this new photograph of herself with the note that she designed the riding habit herself and "do we like it?" We pass the little Fox star's idea on to any who wish to copy it. The breeches and boots are all that Miss Mason adopted of the conventional riding outfit. The breeches are of checked gingham with a round collar. Over this the original miss wears a sleeveless green broadcloth jacket embroidered with yellow wool. To top her bobbed locks a panama hat banded in yellow crepe is her choice.

Miss Mason, who can easily play the part of a girl of thirteen and get away with it, is the staid and home-loving wife of Robert Duran, a Fox director. She recently made a tour of personal appearances throughout the southern states, but she cut the trip short to hasten back to the coast and her handsome husband.

KOSLOFF TOO REALISTIC

Theodore Kosloff is a Russian by birth and he learned to act in the Imperial School at Moscow. He practices the intense and thoroughly realistic form of dramatic art as Betty Compson learned in a narrow escape she had from being stabbed in a scene for her recent picture, "The Green Temptation."

Kosloff, as the jilted Apache, was to attempt revenge upon the pretty Betty by hurling a knife at her. Kosloff's aim—practiced perhaps by his knife throwing scene in "Fool's Paradise"—was so good that Miss Compson was saved only by the quick work of Mahlon Hamilton, the leading man, who jerked her aside, the knife penetrating the sleeve of the coat he was wearing. "There will be no doubt about the realism of that scene when it is shown on the screen," said Miss Compson. "I had no trouble in registering fright, for I really thought I was stabbed. Theodore certainly knows how to handle knives."

MOSCOW EMERGES FROM A BLANKET OF HEAVY SNOW

(By the Associated Press)
MOSCOW, April 3.—(By Mail)—The shielding blanket of snow has left Moscow and revealed a city of mud and slush and unrepentant, cratered pavements like a battlefield, and pock-marked by shell holes; and the city stands out in all its revolution-torn ugliness.

Draskies, or Russian cabs, drawn by disconsolate looking horses, career from melting ice hillock to slush crater, joggling their passengers like a bumping device in an amusement park. Here and there is a sleigh, a hopeless relic from the more charitable days of winter drags painfully from bare pavements to slush oasis with a load of automobiles, which seem recklessly driven by hard-faced chauffeurs, splutter, chug and whir past, throwing muddy water over pedestrians and drowsy passengers alike.

To the stranger, Moscow seems to be the place designed as the Hades where all bad automobiles go when they die. There are a few good, new models out, for the most part, the touring cars, runabouts and lorries which speed through Moscow's streets, generally laden with roughly dressed Soviet officials. Red Army officers, are of a pre-1914 vintage, one lunged ghosts from the scrap heap, coughing bad gasoline and pouring out smoke barrages of oil fumes.

The sanitary condition of the city is almost unimaginable to western strangers. A report of the Moscow Soviet recently said there were millions of barrels of refuse and sewage in the dump yards, unable to be moved because of the transport shortage.

Some efforts are to be made this coming summer toward sewage repair and, here and there, the city's dinginess is being relieved by a bit of paint as private shopkeepers touch up their new establishments.

Cheeses more than a century old are served by some of the wealthy Swiss families on the most important occasions.

Tuberculosis Lower By Half in Country Since 1904, Report

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 4.—A decrease of one-half since 1904 in the death rate from tuberculosis in the United States was reported by Dr. Charles J. Hatfield, managing director of the National Tuberculosis Association, at its annual meeting today. This means for the year 1921 a saving of 100,000 lives he stated. In 1904 the death rate was 200 per 100,000. Preliminary figures for 1921 indicate that the rate will approach 100.

Dr. Hatfield paid a tribute to the founders of the movement in 1904 and to the increasing number of supporters of the cause. "This announcement of the splendid results of 18 years' work," he said, "is also a tribute to the power of public health education and to the unfailing support of newspapers, magazines, motion pictures and other mediums of reaching the general public."

In Framingham, Mass., where a health demonstration has been carried on since 1916 under the auspices of the association, the death rate has been reduced to the figure of 40 per 100,000 for 1921.

"This Framingham figure," said Dr. Hatfield, "is indicative of what may be done under such specialized methods and programs of work. Tuberculosis workers throughout the country will join with us in being impatient for a much more rapid rate of progress when it is realized that in the United States there are still about 1,000,000 persons with active tuberculosis and that 100,000 men, women and children are dying annually from this preventable and curable disease."

BIBLE THOUGHT OF TODAY

THE TWO GREAT COMMANDMENTS:—Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind, and thy neighbour as thyself.—Luke 10.27.

MONEY WELL SPENT.

The headlines make much of the fact that the agricultural bill, as passed finally yesterday, carries an increase of $1,082,000 over the original bill passed by the House.

Without the text of the measure before us it is not possible to analyze it in detail, but it can be safely said that no money which shall be spent under this administration will be productive of such lasting benefit to the country and contribute so much toward permanent economic progress as the $36,774,000 appropriated by this bill.

Politicians are accustomed to think of such appropriations as made for "the benefit of the farmer." But the work of the Department of Agriculture is more truly in the economic interest of the Nation than that of almost any other department. For its final purpose is the economic advancement of the Nation. In analyzing the effect of Government activity on economic progress economists cannot fail to recognize that the work of no department is so direct and of such a practical and permanent character as that of the Department of Agriculture.

The great task ahead of the United States in this after-the-war period is the increase of the per capita production of our people in all fields of industry. The work of the Department of Agriculture is directed precisely toward that end, and the very fact that many of the results are expected to take time in achievement is indicative of the permanent progress that is being sought.

We have not as a people come to realize fully how important is the activity of all such agencies, including the state agricultural departments, the agricultural colleges and the various local bodies co-operating with these agencies. The greatest resource which remains to be developed in the United States is the productive power of the people, and it is toward such development that the efforts of the Department of Agriculture are directed.—Star-Telegram.

WHO WILL BE THE GOAT?

Most national administrations have their goats and the public generally gets at least one from the cabinet. Attorney General Daugherty bids fair to play that role under the Harding regime. Whether he is guilty of the things he is charged with or not now that the public is after him the chances are that Harding will throw him overboard just to quiet the row. In the Wilson cabinet the fire was centered on Joseph Daniels and Albert Sidney Burleson, but they stuck for eight years. In Taft's day it was Ballinger who had to walk the plank and back in the times of McKinley it was Russell Alger of embalmed beef reputation. Even Roosevelt, with all his vaunted independence of spirit, was not beyond reach of the goat hunters. It was H. Clay Evans, commissioner of pensions, who fell a victim to the shafts of the G. A. R. and was eased out to private life via a consularship.

GET READY FOR THE FAIRS.

The first steps have been taken toward organizing for the township and county fairs. This is a matter of no little importance and the News hopes to see those of Pontotoc county grow every year. In no other way can the producers have an opportunity of comparing their products and judging of how to improve from year to year. There is no more effective way of getting before the people as a whole an idea of what is really being done by the citizens and what the possibilities of Pontotoc county are. We have many progressive people of all classes and they are anxious to learn how to progress and the best methods of improving their products and increasing the output. We hope our citizens will keep the fairs in mind and begin early to prepare some first class exhibits.

The New York Times refers to the work of the Genoa conference as re-scrumbling Europe. That describes the situation very accurately. The time honored policy of every fellow for himself is hard to break away from and Europe is still far from being settled to the new conditions that the war has brought about.

All of us regret our past mistakes and wish we had a chance to undo the results of these errors of judgment, but it we could live again in this world, is there any assurance that we would not make other mistakes just as bad or worse than those made in the first life? The chances are that there would be but little difference.

It is said that paper money was first issued by the Chinese about the year 650. The system is the same as now, the notes to be redeemable in gold or silver. Thus it will be seen that there are some ideas that did not originate in the West.

Why Not Build? (Ardmoreite)

Like the first tiny rivulets of water released by the rays of an early spring sun from the frozen streams of dreary winter, comes indications here and there that better times are on the way, following as they will, a long, weary season of depression, frozen credits, economic tie-up and throttled business.

A great period of reconstruction is showing, say all economic prophets. That their predictions are not amiss is attested by the fact that every business man has already felt the quickened pulse of business. Better times are just about here.

America is a great, vigorous youth and youth recuperates much more quickly than does age. While other war-stricken nations must slowly knit back to health, America has just about regained its lost strength and is ready to spring anew to the great pastime of progress.

And the full effect of this newer and grander day is only for those cities who take advantage of the opportunity, who grasp achievement by the forelock—yet, who literally drag achievement through their gates and into the midst of their own particular marts.

All will probably be incidentally benefitted by business reconstruction, but those who get the greatest benefit are those who prepare for it and who are literally on their toes when it comes.

And what is true as a generality is true in the particular case of Ardmore. To really expand, become a greater city, Ardmore has got to gird up its loins and move out.

There is no reason under the sun why Ardmore shouldn't have 25,000 population two years from now. In the first place Ardmore is in the virile, progressive southwest, and industry is slowly but surely moving westward. In the second place, Ardmore is in Oklahoma, a state that is destined to eclipse in the next 15 years what it has done in the past 15. In the third place, Ardmore is located in a magnificent section of the state, the center of a great empire, far enough removed from Dallas and Oklahoma City to stand from under the shadow of either, and yet close enough to other great trade centers to provide splendid connections.

Oil fields barely scratched, farm and cattle lands unsurpassed, rich scenic beauty, climate the peer of any, water and rail facilities—practically ideal living conditions—with the groundwork for a big city already laid, this is the Ardmore of the present.

Oil fields alone won't construct a city here. All the other natural advantages will not unless the citizens unite with the single aim of building better.

It's here for us people—let's go get it.

The Ardmoreite would like to see the Chamber of Commerce open up in earnest with a campaign for volunteer city builders who would be willing to contribute of their time and money toward such an end.

Ardmore has done well in years gone by, but she can't afford to rest upon her laurels. The race is to the swift these days.

Yes, better times are in the offing—and some cities are going to build big therefrom. Why not Ardmore, our town?

Mankind has yet to learn the most elementary lesson of government; or, rather, he has to acquire the fortitude and faithfulness which alone can make him remember and follow it. That lesson is that there is no safety from tyranny, no permanent freedom under centralized rule of any sort.

It was the outstanding merit of the founders of the United States that they recognized this principle, fought for it and embodied it in our constitution. All the tyrannies of all the ages have been built on the sure foundation of centralization. Monarchies, oligarchies or democracies, it mattered not one whit the name or the form, all perished when they destroyed liberty by concentrating power in a few hands. There is no freedom, no lasting liberty, where authority resides far from its origin, in some central body that is no longer quickly and sensitively responsive to the individual.

Ever since its founding this government has been moving along the old path which leads to the precipice. Men are impatient of public affairs. They wish to delegate them to some one else. They are satisfied to give immense power to almost anybody, if only he will relieve them from the accompanying responsibility. And those greedy of power and of wealth are not lacking to accept the gift.

All the states have abdicated their original powers. They have sold one fraction after another of their birthright for an appropriation. And, to judge by the propositions constantly made in legislative bodies, and the swift movement of centralization in our time, the United States will presently differ only in name from the France of Louis XIV or the Rome of the Caesars.

PONCA CITY—A campaign to exterminate rats was conducted here recently. Boy scouts took a prominent part in the program.

SO HAPPY SHE WOULD LIKE TO TELL EVERYONE

Fine Appetite, Perfect Digestion and Ability To Sleep Soundly Her Reward for Taking Tanlac, Declares Topeka Woman.

"I am so happy over regaining my health I just feel like telling everybody about Tanlac," said Mrs. Mandeen Terrell, 1127 N. Quincy Ave., Topeka, Kas.

"Seven years ago I began suffering from nervous indigestion and got so run down I couldn't do my housework. Food formed terrible gas on my stomach and pressed on my heart and it palpitated so badly I could hardly breathe. My nerves were so bad the least noise upset me, and a good night's sleep was impossible. I was also seriously constipated.

"But since taking Tanlac I have a fine appetite, perfect digestion and can sleep soundly. It is no trouble to do my housework now. I think Tanlac simply is a grand medicine." Tanlac is sold by M. A. Waits and all leading druggists. Adv.

Dr. Jess Sanders, who advocated the return of beer and light wines, was second with 34,045. The other contestants voted were: Dan W. Sims, 24,251; B. B. Shively, 21,928; and Charles F. Howard 12,223.

Senate Debates Outlook.
WASHINGTON, May 5.—The senate had an old time political debate yesterday growing out of the results of the republican senate primaries in Indiana and revolving around the question of what will be a prominent issue in the biennial election in November.

Senator McCormick, Illinois, chairman of the republican senate campaign committee, quoting from Governor Cox of Ohio, contended that the democrats were seeking to make the League of Nations the chief issue but Senator Underwood, Ala., minority leader, and other democrats insisted that the existing economic conditions would be the big issue before the voters.

BOWEN HELD FOR DISTRICT COURT ON TWO CHARGES

Dallas Bowen, charged with being connected with a string of robberies of local stores several weeks ago, was bound over to the district court yesterday by Justice of the Peace H. J. Brown on two burglary charges, in one of which Bowen waived a preliminary.

He was alleged to have stolen some automobile tools and to have broken into the Frank Arnett barber shop. Officers said they found the car tools hidden in an empty house here. He was arrested immediately after they were located.

Bowen was also named in two misdemeanor complaints and was sentenced by Judge Brown 10 days in the county jail on each charge. He was in jail today.

POSSES HUNTING FOR SLAYER WHO MUTILATED GIRL

TEAGUE, Tex., May 5.—Large posses, aided by dogs and airplanes, were searching Freestone and Limestone counties early today for the slayer of Eula King, 17 year old granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. John King. The girl's mutilated body was found late yesterday between her home and Kirvin, where she attended school. Her horse was grazing nearby.

There were evidences of a struggle at a place where it is supposed she was dragged from her horse, which she rode to and from school. An axe, with which she had been struck, was found stuck in a tree near where the body was found. Miss King was a popular student at the Kirvin school. She lived with her grandparents.

WACO, Tex., May 5.—Large crowds of men are searching bottoms near Kirvin for a negro suspected of the murder of Eula King, and it is said the evidence against him is so strong as to make almost certain his death at the hands of his captors if he is caught, according to reports here. It is reported that the bloody clothes of the ne-

JELLY BEANS ARE EXPERT STUDENTS OF HUMAN NATURE

Only human nature students of a high order loaf on the corners of busy streets. Men with the "corner" habit can be nothing less. If they were not physiognomists, physiologists, connoisseurs of painting and physicists before they acquired the habit, they have become since.

Perhaps you know that there are corners in this city where life opens out in panorama for the really conscientious student of human nature. It is not every one, however, who has the untiring energy to spend an entire day in study of the high lights of human science. A reporter tried it for a half hour. He came to the conclusion that loafers were misnamed; there was so much happening in that half hour that every neck was over-exerted.

Now, for instance, two highly polished, but delicately shaded young women passed one corner seven times in one-half hour. Each time they seemed reserved and distant in manner as though they were going somewhere, with their thoughts on their destination. Once, and only once, they paused on the corner. A quietly dressed woman paused, also, and in a severe manner scrutinized the young women from head to toe, her expression varying, but entirely disapproving. When the young women started on—they now had company—their critic bit her lips, shrugged her shoulders and marched on.

A barefoot news boy paused, and for three full minutes forced the crowd to walk around him while he tried to discover if a discarded gum wrapper was as long as his big toe.

In the half hour that the reporter stood on the corner only three bobbed-haired girls passed.

He saw only one white dress and one woman with furs. These she carried in her hands.

A strange fat man suggested that one good-looking woman passed. The reporter counted forty-three.

Women congregated at short intervals in groups that averaged six. Ten negro boys, carrying gunny sacks filled with coal, passed. They were led by a Stygian youth who might have been a talented mouth organist but he seemed to be practicing.

Out of every ten who passed the corner seven were women.

Out of every seven women five were "flappers."

Notice, Ball Players.

There will be a meeting tonight at the Chamber of Commerce rooms for the purpose of organizing a city baseball league. All young fellows interested are invited to be present at 8 o'clock.

NATURAL LAW— OSTEOPATHY'S FIRST FUNDAMENTAL

"The most that any physician can do in treating disease is to render operative the natural forces within the patient's body." —Dr. A. T. Still.

Nature is absolute. Within the body she has placed the machinery and the forces to maintain health and to restore it. The most that a physician of any school can do is to influence the manner in which these forces may work.

Osteopathy proceeds toward rendering natural forces operative by natural methods. By education and training the Osteopathic physician has made himself familiar with the construction and the proper functioning of natural machinery.

In his treatment of disease he strives toward but one goal—that goal is to free and keep free the natural forces which determine health.

When bodily parts are out of line, the adaptive mechanism is interfered with. By restoring those parts to normal position through skillful adjustment the practitioner restores freedom of action to Nature. Nothing more is necessary.

Nature will cure when Nature is unhampered.

YOUTH'S DUTY TO CHANGE AFFAIRS

William Allen White Says Modern Generation Too Big for the Past.

(By the Associated Press) LAWRENCE, Kan., May 5.—In his speech at the All-University convocation here today, William Allen White, editor of the Emporia Gazette, urged the students "not to accept the order that is."

"The one blessed privilege of youth is to change things. The one virtue of youth is a passion for change. Nothing is as wicked as a conservative youth," said Mr. White.

"When you get older conservatism may be forced upon you by the logic of events. The inexorable grind of life may file down your enthusiasm for a better world, but your first object in life should be to make this world a better world, and in order to make this world a better world you must instill into your hearts the belief that this is not the best possible world. It is, as a matter of fact, a fairly good world, but it is only good because youth like you a generation ago decided it was a bad world and should be made better, and it will be a bad world in another generation, unless youth, like you, with all the vigor and vision and enthusiasm of youth look upon the faults of this world, and set out to make it better."

Shower of Laughter.

"The first thing an engineer should do who would improve our civilization is to drench it with laughter. Let youth laugh as it will and the world need fear no decay. Only where mirth is checked, where ribaldry is suppressed, does decay hasten to break down civilization when the haw-haw crop languishes, then the jungle creeps in. So go to it, boys and girls. Laugh at this thing we have builded here. Our best blood is in it. We have toiled to get the old thing up and going. It looks solid, and we old chaps are vastly proud of it. But what do we know? What does any generation know of its own work? Laugh—blast your eyes—laugh while we get our teeth and glare at you, and so on off stage cursing you. But, lads, reverence for what we have done is the one awful menace to the structure before you. It will not withstand your laughter. It will not hold up for all our prayers."

"You may fire when you are ready, Gridley!"

BRITAIN'S FILM INDUSTRY SHOWS MARKED ADVANCE

(By the Associated Press) LONDON, May 4.—General improvement in Great Britain's film industry is claimed by moving picture makers, referred to in England as cinema producers.

Four years ago 96 percent of the films shown in the United Kingdom were of American manufacture. The figure now has dropped to approximately 75 percent and British producers are confident home made films will come into their own with the general revival of British industries.

While film making in England still is in its industrial infancy, compared to America's great moving picture industry, investments in the work are increasing. It is estimated that $5,000,000 is invested in the cinema industry, with between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 in production.

Progress has been slow but sure in British scenario writing, according to the head of one English producing firm and good British films now attract as large audiences as do good American films. The happy sign that the British producer notes is that where the merits of American and British films are equal the British public prefers British films.

British films are making slow but steady progress in British dominions and colonies but producers here believe there is a well organized boycott of British films in the United States. Films which British producers consider to be of outstanding merit have repeatedly failed to impress American buyers.

British educational authorities generally stand aloof from the movie film. Zealous advocates of the film as an educational medium find it extremely difficult to obtain necessary financial support.

England's climate from November to February, however, remains the greatest obstacle to exterior picture work. Studio work often is affected by fog.

Green Diamond Found.

JOHANNESBURG, May 5.—A blackish diamond of five and one-half carats was recently found in the Bloemfontein district, which on cutting, proved to be almost emerald in color. The stone now weighs one and one-half carats and is believed to be most valuable, owing to the rarity of green diamonds.

MARY BROOKS PICKEN

HAT to wear and when? The suitability of a costume to the occasion it will grace is a question as important to women as the style and beauty of the gown itself.

Mary Brooks Picken, vice-president of the Women's Institute of Domestic Arts and Sciences, in her book "The Secrets of Distinctive Dress," offers an illuminating guide to correct spring dressing in the above chart.

Mrs. Picken considers clothes a subject worthy of the most serious thought of women who take pride in living up to their best. "Dress is all important," she says, "because it portrays character and individuality. To appear at your very best at all times, you must give due regard to appropriateness, comfort, grace and harmony."

Concerning spring style tendencies Mrs. Picken stresses the growing popularity of attractive colors. "Use discriminatingly as much color as you can, both in dresses and suits," she says, and cites the new three-piece suit, a special spring feature, as offering unusual opportunity for using bright hues.

"Pretty sleeves were never so much in vogue as now," is another hint, and then paradoxically, "this is also the day of the sleeveless dress, a twentieth century adaption of the graceful lines and simplicity of the ancient Greek robes. Your dress this year will either have no sleeves at all, or the sleeves will be its most conspicuous feature."

To those who make their own clothes, Mrs. Picken adds a valuable suggestion that dresses, especially when of silk, be self-trimmed. "You will find that a one-colored silk dress is appropriate for many occasions, and is a real economy and satisfaction to the woman whose wardrobe is limited. It is not always possible to secure self-trimmed gowns except at the best shops, but skillful home-dressmakers will find they offer great possibilities."

STONE AGE CAME NEAR TO MODERN AGE, NOW BELIEF

(By the Associated Press) VICTORIA, B. C., May 4.—The stone age which scientists say, came to an end in Western Europe about 1700 B. C., was carried on for more than three thousand years later and in its most characteristic form existed in British Columbia up until as late as a century ago in some districts, according to findings of archaeologists who have been exploring some of the old community sites, mounds and aboriginal graves along the coast and the interior of the province.

The stone age in British Columbia has for many years been the study of scientists of note who have been working the field in an effort to build up the story of the evolution of the prehistoric civilization as exemplified in the tribes who worked out their existence between the Rocky Mountains and the Pacific. Valuable collections have been obtained.

It was only recently, however, that British Columbia, in an effective way, turned its attention to the past. Under the direction of Premier John Oliver, the Provincial Museum has been partially rebuilt and the collections put on exhibition.

The aboriginal occupants of the country belonged to the neolithic, or new stone age, scientists determined from the specimens obtained from old villages and burying places. Stone and bone tools were in common use when the first white explorers visited the North Pacific, although iron and copper in small quantities were found almost everywhere.

Had Degree of Art.

In some instances the native races had developed a degree of art. One of the feature exhibits in the museum is a copy of a seated human figure holding a bowl. It was shipped from a solid block of stone and then polished. There are two of these specimens very much alike. One was discovered near Departure Bay, Nanaimo, and the other in North Saanich, on Vancouver Island.

Perhaps the most characteristic of the stone age are the stone axes and hammers discovered in many places. They are almost identical with the tools of the neolithic man found in Europe.

The stone weapons include daggers and war clubs. There are many examples of stone dishes, hewn from small boulders. With what appear to have been rolling pins of a somewhat angular design the prehistoric woman of this coast seems to have been well supplied.

Primitive man in British Columbia apparently did a little smoking now and then. Old shell mounds on the Thompson and Fraser rivers have yielded what appear to have been stone pipes. The early explorers found the native races using a true tobacco, Nicotina attenuata, which grows wild in the Thompson River country and was smoked alone or mixed with grease and kinikinnick.

WANTS U. S. GIRL TO BEAUTIFY PARIS

Miss Alice Young of Indiana, who recently distinguished herself by winning a prize in London for suggesting eight points considered to be indispensable in modernizing European capitals, may receive an offer of a yearly salary to make the French capital really beautiful if the French weekly, the Opinion, has its way.

The Opinion suggests that the Paris municipal council hire Miss Young, who is a city planning expert, to carry out her suggestions in Paris.

One of her suggestions alone, says the paper, is sufficient to place her on the payroll, namely, the installation of American office buildings.

Rejoices Daughter Can Resume Studies

"Everything my little 12-year-old girl ate distressed her; even a glass of water would cause her to belch gas and she was unable to go to school for nearly a year. I bought her a bottle of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, and since taking it she is eating us out of house and home and is attending school again." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. Rheumatism at 60

S.S.S. Thoroughly Rides the Body of Rheumatism Impurities.

Somebody's mother is suffering tonight. The scourge of rheumatism has wrecked her body; limping and suffering, bent forward, she sees but the common ground, but her aged heart still belongs to the stars! Does anybody care? S.S.S. is one of the greatest blood-purifiers known, and it helps build more blood cells. Its medicinal ingredients are purely vegetable. It never disarranges the stomach. It is, in fact, a splendid tonic, a blood maker, a blood enricher. It banishes rheumatism from joints, muscles and the entire body. It builds firm flesh. It is what somebody's mother needs tonight! Mother, if you can not go out to get a bottle of S.S.S. yourself, surely somebody in your family will. Somebody, get a bottle of S.S.S. now! Let somebody's mother begin to feel joyful again tonight. Maybe, maybe it's your mother! S.S.S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger size is the more economical.

How glorious you will feel, mother, when your rheumatism is all gone. Let S.S.S. do it. It will build you up, too!

Churches Expect Big Numbers at Mothers' Day Service Sunday

Increased attendance at every Sunday school in the city next Sunday, Mother's Day, is expected by campaigners of the Baptist church to result from their efforts to stir up widespread interest in a "go to Sunday School" movement which will reach its climax May 7.

Those at the Baptist church in charge of the campaign said today they felt sure of reaching their goal of 1000.

"Ada ought to have a combined attendance in Sunday schools of at least 3000, when in fact the attendance is not over 1500," Rev. C. C. Morris, pastor of the First Baptist church, said today. A special program for Sunday has been arranged for both the Baptist church itself and for the McSwain theatre, where the men's class meets.

Aviators say that every city and town, when seen from the air, has a distinct color.

Senate Launches Attacks on Naming of Nat As Revenue Officer.

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Senate attacks upon the nomination of Nat Goldstein, to be internal revenue collector at St. Louis because he accepted $2,500 from the campaign managers of former Governor Lowden of Illinois, was opened today by Senator Harrison, democrat, Miss., who declared several other Lowden delegates had been appointed under the present administration.

Senator Harrison said Mr. Goldstein was one of the Lowden men from Missouri who had been "corrupted" with money of the Lowden campaign.

"No candidate was running more smoothly than Governor Lowden," said Senator Harrison. "The thing that turned his chances and accomplished his defeat more than anything else was corruption of two delegates from Missouri."

New Presbyterian Preacher Arrives; Will Preach Sunday

Rev. E. O. Whitwell.

Rev. E. O. Whitwell, the new pastor of the First Presbyterian church, arrived Thursday and will occupy the pulpit Sunday. Mr. Whitwell has made an excellent record where ever he has held a pastorate and the Ada church feels that it has been fortunate in securing his services.

The following letter was received by one of the church officers a day or two ago from Rev. J. R. Browne, who was pastor of the Ada church fifteen years ago and which is in line with other reports concerning the new pastor.

"Mound City, Mo., May 2, 1922. Dear Brother and Session: I noticed in the Presbyterian Advance you had called Rev. E. O. Whitwell of Edmond, Oklahoma, to become your pastor-shepherd.

"I want to congratulate you upon the wise choice you have made in securing this man for your pulpit. I have known Rev. Whitwell over twenty-five years. He is a strong pulpit man, a good pastor, god social mixer, absolutely honest and pure in life and clean in his language. You will find him on the right side of every moral question. Co-operate with him and I predict for your church a great work, a happy pastor and people.

"Out of my unselfish heart I wish for you unbounded success. "Mrs. Browne joins me in expressing kind regards to you and our old friends.

"I am most cordially,
J. R. BROWNE."
"P. S. Whitwell is all pure gold."

COMMISSION MAY FIX WAR DAMAGE

Claims Between Germany and U. S. To Be Adjusted By a New Board.

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Negotiations are under way between the United States and Germany, it was said in official circles today, looking to the organization of a mixed claim commission which will pass upon claims growing out of the seizure of property in the United States and Germany and upon claims filed with the United States government by American citizens as a result of the sinking of the Lusitania.

The commission probably will consist of three members, one American, one German and a neutral. Completion of a treaty providing for the commission will be followed by referring the proposition to the senate for approval, it was said today. It was not expected that the treaty would be sent to the senate during the present session, however.

The amount of claims filed with the United States government for American property seized in Germany and growing out of the sinking of the Lusitania aggregated about $415,000,000 but officials here have indicated they expect this sum would be scaled to around $100,000,000.

The American government has in its possession some $350,000,000 worth of property of German citizens seized during the war. Settlement of the American claim, it is expected, will be provided for through disposition of this property and its return to its owners.

Canada May Furnish Blooded Animals To Replace Scrub Stuff

(By the Associated Press)

CALGARY, Alta., May 5.—Four hundred purebred bulls are to be distributed in Western Canada soon by the federal government as a part of its general campaign to replace scrub animal with blooded herds.

The animals have been purchased by the chief of the livestock branch of the department of agriculture at auction sales held recently in the prairie provinces. These sales were a part of the government campaign.

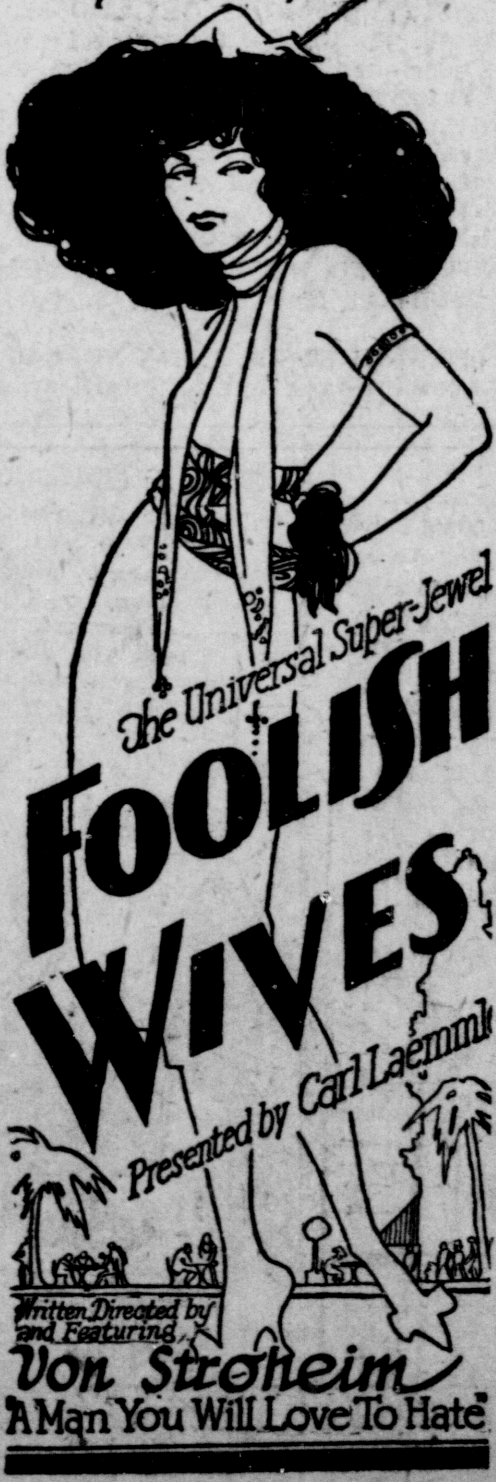

In distributing the purebred animals the government arranges easy terms of payment. The Calgary bull sale, considered of minor importance a few years ago, is now one of the largest of its kind in the world.
